LICENSES TO WED CAN BE ISSUED BY ERNEST MEHL NOW

City Clerk Gets Appointment as Deputy County Clerk; To Save Trips

NOTICES TO BE FILED

New Service Will Aid Persons Living Here in Getting Licenses

With Ernest C. Mehl, city clerk, being named a deputy county clerk announcement was made today that notices of intention to wed may be filed with him here and three days later he will issue a marriage license.

Appointment of Mr. Mehl as a deputy county clerk was made to give better service to the people here. While the marriage license service is the only service now to be handled by the official, other services may be added later.

Harry L. Allison, county clerk, made the appointment, and it is understood that city clerks in some of the other county cities received the same appointment. Notices of intention to wed must be filed three days before a marriage license can be issued and Mr. Mehl's new connection will save the parties concerned at least two trips to the county seat.

Bethany Union Aid Will Meet Friday

Regular meeting of Bethany Union Ladies Aid society will be held at the church in San Antonio Heights Friday, beginning at 11 a. m. Luncheon will be served by the hostess committee and in the afternoon the usual missionary sewing will be done and the lesson studied.

The girls of the Junior Aid will again meet with the women and sew for the mission box.

Missionary From India To Preach Twice on Sunday

The Rev. F. J. Isaac of Moundridge, Kan., an ordained missionary who has an avocation as well as his chosen vocation, will deliver the sermons at both morning and evening hours at the Upland Mennonite church Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Isaac are concluding their first furlough after six years of missionary work in India, and will return to the far east in October.

Besides being a preacher and teacher and all else that a missionary is required to be, Mr. Isaac is also an architect and a carpenter. While in India he has done much work in designing and directing the construction of more practical mission buildings, one of his accomplishments being the construction of a special oven that would permit the missionaries to cook bread and other foods more to their liking than are the usual Indian dishes. During his furlough Mr. Isaac has taken a special course in architecture.

Mrs. Isaac will accompany Mr. Isaac to Upland when he comes to preach Sunday.

Red Cross Planning Swimming Classes

As a result of the success of the short courses in swimming and life saving, such as those conducted at Chaffey this summer and last by Fred H. Clapp and sponsored by the Upland and Ontario Red Cross chapters, the American Red Cross is preparing to continue the instruction next year on a more extensive scale with the aid of itinerant teachers.

A number of Red Cross chapters now employ year-round swimming and life-saving instructors. Others promote a water-safety program through the summer months only. To meet the need of still other chapters desiring similar leadership for periods of one, two or three weeks during the summer season, the Red Cross the past year inaugurated a plan enabling each chapter to offer the public a brief, intensive period of instruction. Before taking up their schedules, the itinerant instructors were given thorough training at first aid and life saving sinsttutes conducted by the Red Cross in June.

PARADE FOR BOYS, GIRLS SATURDAY

Library Sponsoring Event For Youths in Honor of Pilgrimage

The big day for the library is to be Saturday of this week. Between two and three o'clock the parade will take place, the covered wagons and their proud owners, the boys, followed by the girls with their dolls, all—boys and girls—dressed in costume in honor of the Pilgrimage Pageant.

Immediately following the presentation of the prizes at 3 o'clock, the story hour will be held. Mrs. Ruth West, of the library staff, will tell of pioneer days to the boys who will meet on the east side of the fire hall.

Miss Elsie Carr, also of the staff, will tell a story of a pioneer doll. The girls will all meet on the grass east of the library.

The prize for boy in costume with covered wagon will be a book entitled "Shag: the Story of a Dog," the best dog story the librarian has read in a long time. "Grandmother's Doll" is the title of the book to be given for the best costume of girl and doll. These books are beautifully bound in a fabrioid with embossed picture on the outside and will really be an addition to any child's library. They are both put out by the Children's Book Club of America, to which the library subscribes.

The judges of the covered wagon parade will be Harold C. Cook, L. R. Bradley and R. C. Norton, and of the girls and dolls will be Mrs. Geo. Winter, Mrs. T. M. Nichols and Mrs. Ernest Olson.

Whether the boys and girls compete or not, every child is invited to be present to see the parade and to hear the stories told.

Upland's Rainfall Record Is Now .88

Upland's rainfall record for the season now stands at .88 of an inch as the result of the second August storm that started last Friday. For the storm the record, as kept by J. R. Johnston on Twenty-second street, shows a rainfall of .74 of an inch. The first storm, occurring earlier in the month, gave .14 of an inch.

Little damage was done in the Upland district, though in some other places in the southland the rain was heavy enough to cause considerable damage to crops and highways.

COUNTY'S HIGHER TAX RATE CAUSES UPLAND INCREASE

New Total Rate of $7.52 Shows Smaller Increase Than Any Other City

COUNTY RATE IS $3.01

Decreased County Budget Is Offset by Revenue Slump; Water Tax Added

Upland's total tax rate for 1931-32 is $7.52, an increase of 15 cents over the previous rate, it was learned today following the fixing of the new county rate by the board of supervisors yesterday. City councilmen reduced the local rate 10 cents, making it $2.03, but this was offset by the higher county rate of $3.01.

Upland is still listed in all comparative tables as having the highest rate of any city in the county, but the comparison is not equitable for a different basis of assessing is followed in Redlands, Rialto and Chino.

Amount of increase here, however, is smaller than any other municiptlity in the county. All the city rates are higher, but the small Upland increases were realized through the council's cut of 10 cents and through a reduction in the Chaffey rate.

Tax in the Upland school district outside of the city will be $5.96, an increase of 20 cents over the tax of last year. This district pays the same school tax as inside the city, a road tax of 40 cents and the county library tax of 7 cents.

Upland's assessed valuation is $3,310,030 and the valuation of the Upland school district is $3,778,300.

Grier Explains Reason for Rates

In spite of the fact that the county budget for operations during the 1931-32 fiscal year was reduced approximately $50,000, an increased tax for the county was adopted by the board of supervisors yesterday.

Combination of circumstances made the increase necessary as explained by C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors.

The new tax rate inside of cities will be $3.01 and outside of cities it will be $3.48. Rates of a year ago were $2.53 inside of cities, and $3.05 outside of cities.

At least five definite reasons for the increase were given by Mr. Grier. These were listed as follows: special 10-cent levy for water conservation work; an additional general county levy of 9 cents imposed by the state constitution on the basis of the increased average daily attendance in the schools of the county; an increase of 4 cents to pay interest and principal on county bond issues; a elvy of 16 cents was made as the result of the loss of $67,000 in revenue from delinquent taxes, of the loss of $10,000 in interest on public funds, of the loss of $13,000 in fees, of the loss of $16,000 in refunds from the state and loss of $5,000 in the amount received from the state for the support of orphans.

Anticipating an additional shrinkage in these funds, the supervisors included a 5 cent tax to keep the county funds on a sound basis.

Along with other decreases, the assessed valuation took a drop of approximately $500,000. The assessed valuation for this year is $84,438,190 as compared with the previous total of $84,934,190.

Many Attend Rebekah Instruction School

Eleven past district deputy presidents exemplified the lodge ritualistic work when the regular business meeting of Silver Link Rebekah lodge was followed Friday night by a district school of instruction. The district deputy president, Mrs. Marie Jones, also was present, as were a large number of visitors from the several lodges in the district. Silver Link lodge made a splendid showing in attendance.

Following the lodge work a pleasant social hour was held during which refreshments were served.

Souvenir Edition of The News To Be Vivid With Pictures and Facts

Containing many pictures of Upland, relating facts about every detail in the life of the community and printed on specially finished paper, The Upland News Pioneer Pilgrimage souvenir edition will be issued one week from today.

In pictures and words, the edition will fully describe Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda and other parts of the Chaffey district. Reasons why this is such a fine community are outlined. A complete feature is devoted to the school system—showing pictures of the Upland junior high school, Chaffey campus and building and Pomona college. San Bernardino is the largest county in the world and the description of this vast territory will be of interest.

An accurate record of the citrus industry and the production and returns for the last 10 years will be featured.

The edition will contain the complete program of the pilgrimage and give in detail the story of the historical celebration.

Throughout, the features have been written with the view of telling out-of-the-state residents about Upland.

It is designed as an accurate advertising medium of this citrus community and when placed before prospective residents will be a strong factor in boosting Upland.

Orders for additional copies are now being received at The News office. The extra papers will be mailed immediately to any place on this continent for 10 cents each, this figure including the postage.

More than 400 additional copies were distributed a year ago and a larger number is anticipated for next Tuesday's edition. Orders for extra copies must be placed by Saturday noon.

LOCAL SKITS TO BE THEATER FEATURE

Popular Picture Each Night and Club Programs Are Scheduled

Tonight opens the special pilgrimage week program at the Upland theater, with three popular pictures scheduled for the next three nights and on Wednesday and Thursday nights the Upland 20-30 club and the Upland Lions club will sponsor special home-talent programs and stunts.

Details are not being given out as to the clubs' definite plans for the program following the featured picture. It is known, however, that singing, impersonation of local characters and a local "talkie" are being planned. The 20-30 club program will come Wednesday night and the Lions will offer their bit toward the pilgrimage feature Thursday night.

Following is the picture schedule: tonight, "The Arizona Kid"; Wednesday, "The Big Trail," and Thursday, "Song of the West."

Robert E. Baker of the theater is cooperating with the pilgrimage committee in sponsoring the special week of amusements. He obtained the pictures, depicting something of the early west and the pioneer life through special effort to conform to this city's historical celebration next week.

The clubs' programs will be high lights of the Wednesday and Thursday offerings for it is known that much effort has been spent toward giving unique and highly entertaining skits.

On Friday and Saturday, "Alias the Bad Man" will be shown. "A Holy Terror" will be offered Sunday and Monday with Will Rogers in "Young as You Feel" coming Tuesday and showing for five days.

Woodcraft Neighbors Will Meet Tonight

An initiation will be held during the regular meeting of the Neighbors of Woodcraft tonight in the Upland Woman's club house. There also will be balloting on applicants for membership.

A special request is made that all members who can possibly do so attend the meeting.

BARBECUE TO BE BIG ATTRACTION

Full Dinner Will Be Served on Euclid Following Big Parade

One of the important attractions following the Pioneer Pilgrimage parade next Tuesday will be the Spanish barbecue on Euclid avenue, north of the Madonna of the Trail monument. Tickets are now being sold for the dinner, which will include a full meal.

Meat will be cooked in a pit under the direction of Godfrey Andreas and John Shepperson, and the Upland butchers have been engaged to assist in serving. Joseph A. Simons, Upland citrus rancher and Los Angeles brick manufacturer, has offered to furnish all the brick to be used in construction of the pit.

Mr. Andreas appealed to all Uplanders to buy tickets for the barbecued dinner. Most of the business men have these tickets for sale. Proceeds of the ticket sale will pay for the cost of the meal and go toward defraying expenses of the pilgrimage.

Mrs. Guy's Mother Passed Away in Iowa

A telegram came from Mrs. H. M. Guy Friday night announcing the sad news of the death of her mother, Mrs. C. E. Hoeppner, who passed away that afternoon at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Wm. Joens, near Traer, Iowa. Mrs. Guy made a hurried trip to Traer upon receiving a wire that her mother was very ill with cancer, arriving there Thursday morning, reaching her before she lapsed into unconsciousness.

Mrs. Hoeppner, who spent eight or ten months at the home of her daughter in Upland, returned to her Iowa home last year in June with the Guy family when they drove back to visit relatives and friends. She was nearly 84 years of age at the time of her death and was known to a good many Upland people, with whom she became acquainted while in the Guy home and all of whom, we venture to say, will have a kindly remembrance of that good old pioneer and mother.

Miss Von Stein Is Home From Orient; Tells Experiences

Completing a three months tour of the Orient and the South Seas, Miss Mary Von Stein of Upland, member of the Chaffey faculty, and Miss Rowena Taylor of Fullerton, former Chaffey teacher, returned home Saturday.

Traveling independently and selecting their route as they went, the young women had the privilege of seeing the places that most interested them. During the voyage they sailed on ships of two Japanese lines, one Dutch, one American and one New Zealand line and visited Hawaii, Japan, which they crossed by train, China, New Zealand, Australia and the South Sea islands.

One of their many vivid experiences was a trip by airplane from Shanghai to Nanking, the section now being flooded by the great Yang tse Kiang river. Even then the floods had begun and the adobe huts were crumbling. The area is now under 20 feet of water.

Visits were made to Hong Kong and Singapore and one of the most fascinating parts of the entire tour was a motor trip across Java, known to travelers as one of the most beautiful places in the world.

Brisbane and Sydney were the Australian cities visited, and the travelers were much impressed with the almost tragic economic conditions in that country. There is black financial depression, hundreds of people who can pay no rent are living in tents in the parks; many banks are closed and those of any nationality wishing to leave the country are practically forbidden to take out their savings. For instance, if a man withdraws $100 to take from the country, he must pay the government $31 of the amount. Miss Von Stein and Miss Taylor, stopping between boats, were required to sign an income tax paper. They had the thrill, though not a pleasant one, of seeing scores of Sydney police quell a red riot.

The young women were good sailors and the trip was greatly enjoyed in every respect.

25 NEW STUDENTS DAILY REGISTER

Jaysee Enrollment Expected To Be by Far Largest in History

New students at the rate of 25 a day are registering at Chaffey junior college and indications point to the enrollment being by far the largest in Chaffey history.

As the time for the start of school is nearer, the number registering each day is expected to increase.

Sept. 8 has been set aside as the day for faculty meetings, with a general faculty meeting at 11 o'clock. High school and junior college faculty meetings will be held during the afternoon. Due to the Pioneer Pilgrimage here Wednesday, the buildings will be closed. On Thursday, juniors and seniors are to enroll and on Friday freshmen and sophomores will register. Changes of registration will be Saturday.

Rain and Thunder Break Up Vacation

Almost an inch of rain in one night, in fact, within about two hours, was too much "dampness" for Mrs. Roy Creighton and her party, who went up to Big Pines Thursday for a weeks vacation. The rain fell between 10 and 12 o'clock Friday night, and was accompanied by lightning and thunder such as the campers had never before seen and heard.

The big Creighton tent weathered the storm, but the rain soaked the earth and the canvas floor was wet and the dampness spread to the equipment. Saturday morning little Patsy Peters, Mrs. Creighton's granddaughter, had a cold and Mrs. Creighton telephoned to Mr. Creighton to come for them, Mrs. Creighton, Mrs. Irma Peters and little Patsy coming home with him.

Other members of the party, Mrs. Floyd Jones and daughters, Helen and Bernice, and Marian Lewis, remained until Sunday, when Mr. Jones went up for them.

A forest ranger at the play grounds reported eight trees were struck by lightning within three miles of the camp.

Judge George R. Crane was at his desk today in justice court after an absence of several days with an infection in his foot.

CITY IN READINESS TO PRESENT HISTORICAL PROGRAM TO THRONG

Six Epochs Will Tell Story of California's Growth and Development

DETAILS ARE OUTLINED

Three Bands, Spanish Orchestra Will Provide Music For Program

Decorative banners streaming overhead, definite route of the parade being announced and with the detailed arrangement of the second annual Pioneer Pilgrimage being completed, Upland today began its final preparations for the presentation on next Wednesday of the colorful historic event.

Outstanding in the procession will be the appearance of three Hopi Indian chiefs, of three bands and a Spanish orchestra, of 500 persons and 200 horses. All of these will authentically appear in a moving story of the growth of California from the early days.

Divided into six epochs, the procession will begin with the Indian period and end with the railroad division. As a preliminary to the actual start of the historical story, John Steven McGroarty, noted Californian, and P. H. McQuillen, Upland mayor, will ride in an old-time carriage. They will be followed by one of the bands and coming soon afterwards will be the appearance of the Indian epoch. This epoch is being sponsored by the fire department and will include a score or more of young Indians as impersonated by local youths. The Lions club is sponsoring epoch No. 2, the Spanish period, with several members of the club portraying the characters of the early Spanish colony. Then comes the Bear Flag period in the history of California and this will be told through members of the Upland 20-30 club.

Always of outstanding interest is the appearance of relics of the past and many incidents of years ago will be recalled as the fourth epoch, the Pioneers and '49ers, are presented under the sponsorship of the Upland Rotary club.

The American Legion will sponsor the General Fremont epoch, with Floyde L. Atwood portraying the famous war leader.

The final chapter in the pilgrimage story will be presented by the Izaak Walton league, which will depict the more modern railroad period.

These sections will pass in review along the line of march and as each passes the Madonna of the Trail monument, tribute will be paid to the memory of the pioneer mothers as exemplified by the monument itself.

Mr. McGroarty will take the platform upon completion of the pageant and his voice will be carried for at least a block away by the public address system.

Building Permits Add $6173 to Total

Total of $6,173 is represented in the building permits issued by the city service department during August.

This brings the total for the year up to $55,223 as compared with $61,890 as the total at this time in 1930.

20-30 Club Plans For Big Convention

Most of the members of the Upland 20-30 club will attend the club's national convention in Long Beach over the week-end and announcements concerning the program were made at the club's meeting in The Sycamores last night. The convention will be on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Dr. Duncan, head of the Pomona college economics department, was the club speaker, discussing economics and the world's financial condition.

CUCAMONGA BASIN WORK STARTS SOON

Association Will Meet Tonight and May Authorize Completion of Project

With approximately $21,000 available for water conservation projects in the Cucamonga basin, and with definite plans made for the work, the Cucamonga Basin Protective association will meet tonight. It is anticipated that the association will authorize the continuance of the work it has already started.

Plans for the work have been sent to the state engineer for approval, which is expected within a few days. With its own funds and money obtained from sources in this district, the Cucamonga association this spring reinforced the check dams already built and started another dam across the basin. The new work will complete the dam already started and it will also include the facilities for "spreading" the water over the sinking grounds.

As the result of the county supervisors levying a special 10-cent tax for water conservation, approximately $10,000 will be available for the Cucamonga basin work. This sum will be matched by the state.

Work will be rushed so that the rain water of this winter will be impounded and spread over the basin, rather than allowed to rush through the basin and out of the district.

Pre-School Clinic in Red Cross Room on Sept. 3 and 4

Preparations are completed for the pre-school clinic to be sponsored by the Tenth street Parent-Teacher association on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 3 and 4. The clinic will be held in the Red Cross health center on Second avenue just below the police station, and will be open to all children who will enter the grade school for the first time this fall, including those who attended kindergarten last year.

Parents of pre-school age children who will attend the Eighteenth street school, are invited to bring their children to the clinic.

From 10 a. m. to 12 noon on each of the two days the school nurse and a physician will be on hand to give each child a thorough physical examination.

It is hoped to have a large attendance at clinic this year.

Actual Paving of Foothill Started

Actual paving of Foothill boulevard started yesterday.

Laying of the "hot stuff" marks the beginning of the final step in the widening and re-paving of the thoroughfare through the city. Paving is started on the west and will proceed to the east, with only one interruption, unless an accident occurs. Operations will stop on Sept. 9 during this city's Pioneer Pilgrimage.

The pavement when completed will be 30 feet wide, permitting three lanes of traffic, with the right-of-way 76 feet wide.

Archie Moore Tells Rotarians About Trip to Great Northwest

Jas. A. Pitts wielded the gavel at the meeting of the Upland Rotary club today noon at The Sycamores, President G. A. Hanson still being at the San Antonio Community hospital recuperating satisfactorily.

Frank Newsome, Corona Rotarian, was a visitor today and favored the club with a vocal solo, having established a reputation for his unusual talent when visiting the club previously.

Dr. R. C. Stone gave his monthly review of articles in the Rotarian magazine in his customary interesting manner.

Archie Moore, who with Mrs. Moore and daughter, returned a short time ago from their vacation trip to Puget Sound, was the speaker today and interested those present greatly in his description of the trip and particularly of their several weeks stay on Orcas island. Residents there live the simple rural life and they are noted for their happiness and contentment. Crops are very prolific, growing very rapidly and luxuriantly. There is none of the grind of business and social life as we experience it here, and Mr. Moore recommends it as a wonderful place to go for a rest of several weeks or more. It was very evident from his talk that he is an ardent fisherman and much of his time was spent in that sport.

What is your life? Is it even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.—James, 4:14.

Hope Chest to Memory Chest

With the passing of a wonderful mother last Friday the wife of the News Guy had spanned the time from the hope chest days to the days of the memory chest. In that earlier day when a girl fills her hope chest in happy anticipation of the future there is scarcely an emotion other than happiness, the sky is seldom darkened by a cloud—and if it is, the light soon shines through again. Usually it's quite a long span from hope chest days till the final deed of a Mother becomes only a memory with her children, along with the other treasured acts of her life that have gone before, and the chest of memories is filled with precious gems of untold value. For what does one treasure more than the memory of Mother?

With the passing of Mrs. C. E. Hoeppner, back in Iowa, last Friday there went to her reward one of the typical old-time Mothers. Because she represented a type that is fast disappearing from our country—and not alone because she was the Mother of our wife—we are paying this tribute of loving respect to her. Others have Mothers just like her—but these Mothers are few, as they are going with the period in which they lived and there will never be any like them in future years. There are Mothers and fathers just as true and just as worthy of being honored—but they are the Mothers and fathers of generations which succeeded those through which the old trail blazers traveled—they are of an entirely different type.

The history of Mrs. Guy's parents is the history of many pioneer settlers in Iowa who began their married life sixty-five years or more ago. Coming from Germany, they took up farming on land that could be obtained for a few dollars an acre. This land was farmed diligently and life was lived economically—with the result that acres were added to their holdings from time to time. True to the old German type of woman, this Mother went out into the field and labored alongside her husband in their endeavor "to get ahead." They were of sturdy stock—for after hours in the field the Mother did her housework in the evening, and the wholesome and healthful life she lived enabled her to reach the age of nearly 84 in splendid physical condition and with a keen mind.

She was the kind of a pioneer Mother who was called upon by the neighbors in time of sickness and need. Oftentimes she was at the bedside of an expectant Mother helping to usher a child into the world before a doctor was able to reach the bedside. But with the passing of such pioneer days as those are also passing the type of Mother and father who did their part so well against such great odds. They are deserving of all honor and tribute that can be paid them—and Mrs. Hoeppner typified all that was best in the Mother of those pioneer days. The chest which contains the jeweled memories of her life is truly a "treasure chest."

Those Know-It-All He-Gossipers

Every city and community has its quota of know-it-all he-gossipers—they're similar to the she-gossiper, with the exception that they usually "scandalize" about different things. As they say—it takes all kinds of people to make a world; but it's too bad the malicious gossiper had to be included in the list.

C. C. Johns, in his daily column in The Corona Independent, comments as follows about this obnoxious specie of the human race:

"In every city and town, it does not make any difference where it is or how well it is managed, you'll always find some wiseacre citizens who know more about everybody else's business than they do their own, which is very little. It is their favorite pastime of sittin' around and tellin' how they would run things. Their favorite target is the police. Every one of these wiseacres knows where all of the hard-licker stills are located and blame the police and county officers for not cleanin' up. But pin 'em down and they can't give a nickel's worth of information that is of any help. They rant and brag about knowin', but when it comes to passin' out any tips that are of real value, they are helpless. The evidence they've got wouldn't get to first base in the courts. That class of he-gossipers is one of the things that handicaps the work of the officials. These old duffers will pass by a house where the missus is cookin' cabbage for supper, and swear by the great hornspoons and even worse, that she and the old gent are runnin' a still. They add this to the list of the 'know-it-alls' and spread the news around that they 'know where there's another still.' Lotta these bimbos ought to be taken before the county grand jury and let 'em explain their pet notions."

This he-gossiper is the same fellow who comes into the newspaper office and wants the editor to take a wallop at somebody every now and then. When the editor informs him he does not think it is his business to dish up that kind of publicity when he does not have the evidence, but offers to let the he-gossiper take a crack at him if he is willing to sign the article, his enthusiasm at once cools off. This News Guy has had more than one just such experience with fellows who "want to get someone," show 'em up "in their true character," etc., through the newspaper. They want the editor to advocate this, that and the other because they may have a hobby in that direction—but they don't have the nerve to write an article and have it printed above their signature. In other words, they have a lot of nerve until it comes time to prove that they do.

According to George Savage in the Claremont Courier: "When you address a golf ball it doesn't mean you are calling it names." We're afraid George is trying to make his wife believe he don't swear—or he hasn't had any experience on the golf course. Golf balls are called some awful names and have to take the blame for a lot of things for which they are not responsible.

Young Folk Enjoy Gay Beach Wiener Roast

Planned by Miss Christina Born and Miss Belva Stutzman, a merry beach wiener roast was held Saturday evening by a number of young people of the Mennonite church.

Motoring down in a group to Newport Beach, the young folk enjoyed the various beach amusements, most of them spending some time in the water. Several of the boys tried their luck as fishermen and brought in good catches.

When "time to eat" arrived a big bonfire was built on the sand at the water's edge and all joined in roasting the wieners that were part of the picnic supper.

In the group enjoying the gay party were Miss Anne Voth of San Diego, Mrs. John Lichti, Miss Gertrude Eymann, Miss Ella Schmidt, Miss Vera Cassell, Miss Maysel Schrock, Miss Dorothy Ruth, Miss Anna Lichti, Miss Anna Myers, Miss Helen Lichti, Miss Frances Brown, Miss Belva Stutzman, Miss Ruth Ollila, Miss Dorcas Hendrickson, Misses Elizabeth, Christina and Cornelia Born; Messrs. Some time was spent in playing various games in which the children joined heartily and later the numerous pretty gifts presented to Peggy by her relatives and friends were piled upon one of the long tables and inspected by everyone as Peggy opened the packages and thrilled over the dainty articles.

Mrs. Swan Hostess at Delightful Shower

Unintentionally becoming an expert weather prophet when she sent out very clever and intriguing photographic invitations to friends of Mrs. George Hazlegrove (Miss Fern Carver) to attend a surprise layette shower, Mrs. Edna Swan was hostess Friday evening at a most delightful swimming party and wiener roast on the bank of the Santa Ana river. Mrs. Hazlegrove was completely and happily surprised when showered with lovely gifts, and the entire party was equally surprised by the real shower of rain precipitated by the freak August thunderstorm.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Swan asked Mrs. Hazlegrove to accompany the family to the river for a cooling swim and a wiener supper, and at 5 o'clock the two, together with Phyllis and Sheldon Swan, Phillip Witman and Mrs Nellie Deeds, drove down to the river, Mrs. Hazlegrove being in complete ignorance of the surprise planned for her.

About dusk, when the large group of guests arrived in a regular automobile procession, Mrs Hazlegrove, thinking them a strange picnic party, immediately wondered if they were to be crowded from their nice place on the river bank, and was astonished when she saw her friends pouring forth from the cars.

The wieners were roasted and the very tempting supper was spread beneath a large tree. Just as the picnickers were finishing their supper, the lightning flashed and the thunder rolled and big rain drops splashed down through the branches, adding a pleasant thrill to the evening.

Coming back from the river, the party went to Mrs. Hazlegrove's home, where the dainty packages were opened and the lovely gifts admired, Mrs. Hazlegrove being very happy in their possession.

Invited to attend the party and shower were Mrs. Hazlegrove, Mrs. M. H. Bailey, Miss Nelle Atherton, Mrs. F. E. Samuel, Mrs. Eldon Atwood, Mrs. Nell Perschbacher, Mrs. Owen Atwood, Mrs. George Schlecht, Miss Linda Schmidt, Miss Evelyn Swoap, Miss Marjorie Bollinger, Mrs. Elna Reid, Miss Elizabeth Harris, Miss LeOla Lee, Mrs Ernest Olson, Mrs. Edith Pierce, Miss Eileen Lucas, Miss Lillian Harnish, Mrs. Clyde Danner, Mrs. Geo. The Geo. L. Winters Have Chicago Friend as Guest—

Concluding a two-months tour of the west, Miss Ada C. Westpsahl of Chicago departed Sunday evening for her home after spending two weeks as the guest of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Winter. Miss Westpsahl was a member of the party with which Mr. and Mrs. Winter recently toured the national parks.

During her visit here several interesting trips were made, among them being an afternoon spent in the Huntington art gallery and gardens and a visit to the Riverside Mission Inn where dinner was served in the candlelighted patio and the beautiful organ and voice recital in the chapel was enjoyed. Padua Hills was the attractive setting for a luncheon, a return to the hillside inn for dinner being made one evening in order to enjoy the view of the valley in the twilight when the myriad twinkling lights are turned on.

One of the very interesting events during the two weeks was a visit Sunday afternoon to the Kellogg Arabian horse farm near Pomona, where a splendid horse show was given.

Every Sunday afternoon two performances are given free to the public and the blooded Arabian animals are exhibited by the grooms, the several educated horses being put through their tricks and the saddle horses paced for the benefit of the spectators who throng the grandstand. The show is equal to and is conducted in the same manner as is any real horse show, the Kellogg stables having the finest Arabian steeds in America. At least 25 horses are exhibited in each performance and a lecturer with a megaphone gives a short talk about each horse as it appears.

Since the first of the year 100,000 people have attended these shows.

Miss Westpsahl has for some time been a patron of the Butterfly farm in San Antonio canyon and a visit was made to the shop and its large collection was studied. The vistors were told that the shop has recently filled two very large orders for the curio shops in Yellowstone park.

Edward Thudium and Miss Hawker Wed

Selecting the Presbyterian church at Laguna Beach as the scene of their wedding, Edward Theodore Thudium, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Thudium of Upland, and Miss Margaret Hawker, daughter of Mrs. Rose Hawker of Cucamonga, were united in marriage shortly after noon Saturday, the ceremony being witnessed by Mrs. Hawker and Mrs. Thudium. The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome tailored costume of dark blue with all accessories harmonizing.

The bride, a graduate of Chaffey, is one of the most popular young women in Cucamonga and Mr. Thudium, also a Chaffey graduate, is an employe of the Upland branch, Bank of America, and is an active member of the Upland 20-30 club, being a past president of the club. At present he is secretary of District No. 5.

Chas. O. Deverts Finds He Has Too Many Birthdays—

Chas. O. Deverts will have his little joke, and now he is not certain just how old he is. Anyway he and Mrs. Deverts were the very much surprised hosts Saturday night to a group of friends who came to celebrate his birthday that had not occurred.

At a recent birthday party for a friend Mr. Deverts remarked his birthday came on the 22nd, leaving the impression that it occurred in August. Not until after the friends had planned a celebration for him did he tell them that his birth month is May.

In retaliation for this joke, Mr. Deverts' friends planned to surprise him, anyway, so Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ben. V. Garner came by for the Deverts and brought them to town to see the whiskerino high jinks, while the other guests gathered at the Deverts home. But trouble developed. The Deverts did not want to go home. Finally Mrs. Garner had to pretend illness to get them to return home for the surprise that awaited.

The evening was spent playing bridge and the tempting refreshments brought by the guests were served.

Joining in the gay party were Mr. and Mrs. Garner, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Avery, Mrs. Blanche M. Loch, Mrs. Isabelle Wisely, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Brian and Mr. and Mrs. Deverts.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves Return From Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Graves returned Sunday from their ranch in Mendocino county where they have been for the past six weeks. A part of the ranch is forested with redwood and pines, the balance being set to several kinds of fruits and berries.

The weather there was very pleasant during their entire stay, Mrs. Graves reports. A light fire was required every morning and evening and one night the temperature went as low as 38.

For the past seven years Mr. and Mrs. Graves have spent their summer vacations on their northern ranch and they have located all of the best fishing holes and hunting grounds in that section. Mrs. Graves has become an expert angler and she spent much time along the mountain streams, leaving the hunting mostly to Mr. Graves.

They also made several sightseeing trips, among the places visited being Willetts, Ukiah and Comptche.

While at their ranch Mr. and Mrs. Graves had several guests from Upland and also three former residents of Maine, Mrs. Graves' home state, who called to exchange experiences in the New England state, although they were strangers.

Spectacular Parade Seen by Legion Men

Described as the most stupendous parade ever witnessed, local American Legion members were enthusiastic over the procession at Long Beach yesterday afternoon as a preliminary to the formal opening of the convention today.

An entry, depicting pioneer days and incidentally advertising the Pioneer Pilgrimage here Sept. 9, drew much applause as it passed along the line of march. Herman Cordes as a Jewish merchant was a character who was a humorous relief to the tired throng. The parade started at 2 o'clock, but it was after 5 o'clock before the Upland entry passed the reviewing stand.

Many from Upland were at the convention city yesterday and the delegates and alternates were on hand with the opening of the session this morning. The delegates are Charles E. Benson, Thomas E. Howarton, Floyde Atwood and John D. Howe, the alternates being Earl E. Marsh, Herman Cordes, Milton Huxtable and William Kincaid.

LIBRARY OFFERING MANY NEW BOOKS

Fiction and Non-Fiction For Adults and Children Are Ready For Patrons

By Ruth West

To be a youngster in Upland today is a privilege to be enjoyed to the full. The Pioneer Pageant takes our thoughts to long ago boys and girls who suffered hardships and privations but who live today in memories filled with love and great admiration. It is fitting to remember them with story and pageant, but the real pioneer days are gone and little hint is left anywhere—least of all in books and their make-up. "Pinafores and Pantalets" was inspired by the stories of the "good old times," and comes to the Upland public library at this opportune time to tell a charming story of grandmother when she was a girl. There is a new set of the "Children's Hour" with pictures and decorations so charming that no one will be able to resist reading every story again—and all the favorites are included from the fairy tales beloved of every child everywhere to legendary heroes and a book of humor culled from really worth-while stories. These with many other books will be found at the desk of the librarian for any parent to take home.

Geography has become an adventure with such books as "North America," by Lucy Sprague Mitchell, to use. The stories are fascinating and so clever that one forgets that the book is instructive as well.

And so with the story-telling on Saturday, September fifth, at three o'clock at the library, with dolls to dress and wagons to make, with Miss Carr here to help every reader who has a problem, we trust that September will find the junior department in constant use—not only by those who have been welcome readers through the summer, but by those who are making use of the library to supplement classroom work at school.

While the junior books seem to be foremost on the list this month, the adult books include many interesting titles.

Those who are anxious to guide youthful readers will find the two books of Edwin Starbuck's of untold value. One embraces fairy tales, myths and legends and the other that great ocean of reading—fiction. Each title is graded and classified according to situation, honesty, honor, resourcefulness and so on. Perhaps this is the best "guide" in use today.

The books in the following list will be on inspection Friday and will go into circulation Tuesday.

Now For School!

It won't be long now until school begins and you should make sure that the scholars do not have feet that bother them so that they can't give all their attention to their studies. Research has shown that much of the poor work done in school can be traced to poor feet in ill fitting shoes, resulting in nervousness, inattention to studies, eye strain and ill health generally.
Put your children's feet in our hands and we'll take care of them right. Whether large or small, the foot is one of the most important members of the body and should be well cared for.
We have Brownbilt ant Buster Brown Oxfords for school wear at prices the lowest in fifteen years. Many of them with the new Tread Straight feature—found only in these shoes. This tends to keep the toes pointed straight ahead—the natural way to walk comfortably. This lessens the arch strain and thus helps to keep a normal foot healthy.

L. G.'S GET JUMP ON TITLE SERIES

7 to 3 Victory Over Atwoods Last Night Gives Veterans Good Start

By Paul Weber

A five run rally in the third inning gave the Lemon Growers a 7-3 win over Atwoods last night in the first game of the championship series. The Growers bunched six hits off of Jake Voth in their big inning and piled up a large enough lead so that they were never in any real danger of being overtaken by the Atwood outfit.

Herb Dean worked in the box for the winners and turned in his second victory of the season. Herb has started in only two contests this year and has won both of them. Atwood's six bingles, outside of the opening inning were kept well scattered. With the exception of the third frame Jake Voth hurled a good brand of ball. Only four safe blows were registered by the Growers outside of the third and the winners went hitless in the last three stanzas.

Second game in the title series will come Wednesday night, with another game Friday. The team winning three games takes the 1931 pennant. Five games will be played if necessary.

Every player on the Lemon Grower outfit got one hit apiece, with the exception of Chaddy Cornelius, who connected for a pair of singles in five times up. Besides being the leading hitter, Cornelius turned in an outstanding fielding performance. He handled nine chances without an error and more than once he robbed the opposing batter of a sure safe hit. Otto Gottwald was the heavy hitter for the Atwood outfit, getting a pair of singles in four trips to the plate.

Atwoods got off to a good lead when they put across two runs in the opening inning. Tony Zenz drew a walk for a starter and Gottwald singled to put his pal on second base. After O. Lichti had gone out on a pop fly, W. Scott lined a double over second base to score Zenz. Gottwald then scored the second run on Voth's sacrifice fly. Atwoods got the third and final run in the fifth when McBurnie drove out a home run between center and right field.

The Growers did not score until the third frame but when they did start they did a good job of it. Voth seemed to lose all of his effectiveness in this inning and the growers made six base hits and a walk to produce five markers. The Lemon Growers made one more run in the fourth and then L. Ingram's three-base swat and an infield out accounted for their final tally in the fifth inning.

PICTURE COUNCIL'S WORK PROGRESSING

Member of Council Tells of Purpose of List of Approved Films

(By Mrs. J. H. Freeman)

Among the many reasons for being proud of our town of Upland is the way the people, individually or through various organizations, go at it to make conditions conducive to good citizenship, for the future generations as well as the present. One organization, the Upland Motion Picture council, although in its infancy, is showing real wisdom for its tender age of five months, by studying the work as it proceeds instead of acting on impulse or prejudice. As one member remarked: "I see we have much to learn."

Although the heat of summer and the absence of some members have slowed up the work a little, the council has been by no means inactive at any time. Not only have the members been studying the different phases of local problems and doing what they could, but, with the belief that pressure must be brought to bear on the producers and distributors for better pictures, they have been studying the pros and cons of federal supervision, endeavoring to be fair in all their judgments and actions. If every town would have such a council there would be tremendous influence with the producers and distributors, not only through the reports gathered from the council members and sent to producers, but also through the realization that there is power behind the demand for better pictures.

Locally, with sympathy for the problems of the exhibitor, the council and exhibitor have been trying to meet the difficulties together. The council has also been gratified with the willingness of The Upland News and the Ontario Report to publish the approved lists prepared by the council by consulting the approved lists sent out by four or five preview committees. These lists go far in guiding patrons in their choice of pictures. Guidance is furthered, too, by reports by members to their organizations or to individuals wanting information.

The council makes a specialty of trying to have the children see only what is suitable. In an effort to guide parents the council and local exhibitor co-operate in making out lists of approved family pictures with accompanying shorts coming to the Upland theatre, and publishing the same in The Upland News. There is naturally a difference of opinion as to what children should or should not see. Some think that children under eight years should never go to a show, some think "but seldom." A few pictures are approved by all preview committees "for all ages." It is conceded that it is wisest for parents to accompany their children to shows they are permitted to see. A picture that might be harmful for one child could be harmless for another; that is, a nervous, excitable child should never see an exciting picture. To read an exciting story may be just as injurious, for although not as vivid, the imagination is allowed to dwell, in quiet, on what is read more than on what is seen in a show.

It is conceivable that some picture that is distasteful for some people might be helpful where family problems make the lesson taught applicable—if there is a real moral lesson taught. But to utilize this idea as an excuse for putting out unclean pictures rightly arouses the indignation of decent people. The making of criminals or the lives of criminals appear attractive has a very bad influence. Drinking scenes made attractive and that are not necessary to the plot and heroines who smoke [illegible] otherwise attractive look suspiciously like propaganda by wets and tobacco companies.

Pictures may be judged for their educational value, their moral influence, or for their entertainment value—included in the last is art, either art of photography or of acting.

With their earnest purpose and interest the council is sure to grow in efficiency and strength. It is looking ahead with plans. Suggestions and criticisms are invited from all interested, for the council members want to be fair to all.

The best pictures generally draw the largest crowds for the longest runs. This has been demonstrated many times and we are looking hopefully to the time when motion pictures will be a great power for good and never for evil.
